

Preserving the Historic Road is the conference dedicated to the identification, preservation and management of historic roads in the US and beyond. Join us next spring in historic downtown Boston, just a few steps from the Boston Common, the Old North Church and Faneuil Hall for our fifth biennial gathering. Engaging education sessions, exciting keynotes and field tours in and around Boston and the New England area will showcase the latest in policy, engineering and conservation—and of course plenty of time to socialize too! Whether an engineering, design, transportation or preservation professional; or interested historic roads advocate, you won't want to miss this important conference.

Sponsored by:

American Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials (AASHTO)
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
Executive Office of Environmental Affairs
Department of Conservation and Recreation
Elizabeth Vizza Consulting
Federal Highway Administration (FHWA)
National Park Service
Paul Daniel Marriott & Associates
US International Council on Monuments and Sites (USICOMOS)

Historic Roads Conference
PO Box 9750
Washington, DC 20016

Date:

April 27 – 30, 2006

Visit us:

www.historicroads.org

Location:

Historic Omni Parker House Hotel,
Boston, Massachusetts (special conference rates are available if you book your room through Worldview Travel—see below)

Call for Papers:

If you are interested in presenting a paper at the conference, please visit our website for details,
www.historicroads.org.
The deadline for paper abstracts is September 1, 2005.

Register now and SAVE 33%!

Register now for a low rate of $250* and save more than 33% on the full conference registration rate. Contact Brenda Taylor at Worldview Travel, 800.627.8726 x223 or brenda@worldviewtravel.com.

*this special rate is available until 9-15-05 for basic registration, special tours and events are not included and may be purchased later. This rate is non-refundable.

